Alabama Doctors Linked to Fake Drug Rings

Counterfeit cancer drugs have touched Alabama as well. 43 different medical practices in Alabama have been implicated in various black market supply chains associated with counterfeit cancer treatments and other therapies. Families who have lost relatives to cancer will never know if their loved ones were given real medication or fake, and if they died from a lack of treatment.

The Deadly Counterfeit Drug Trade Thrives in Alabama

The country has seen an upsurge in counterfeit prescription pills masquerading as painkillers and Xanax. These pills are disguised as real medications but made with deadly fentanyl or its even deadlier variants, and even a fraction of a single pill can mean death in less than 30 minutes of ingesting it.

Fentanyl is a deadly threat to Alabama. In January 2018, authorities in Shelby County seized 36,000 fatal doses of fentanyl. Three months later, the leader of a Birmingham drug ring, who was found in possession of 17,000 counterfeit fentanyl pills, received an almost 21-year prison sentence. A total of nine defendants were sentenced in this case.

Opening the U.S.’s closed drug supply chain puts Alabama lives at risk of serious injury or death.
